

QuantumEdgeAI Weekly Routine for Success (updated 1.31.2025)

SUNDAY Evening after 6:00 PM ET or before 3:00 AM ET MONDAY Morning:

- Login to VPS AND before starting NinjaTrader (THIS IS IMPORTANT):
 - If you did not already do this over the weekend, be sure to remove the cache and all historical data (with NinjaTrader closed) by going into the following folder \Documents\NinjaTrader 8\db and deleting ONLY these four subfolders: \cache, \day, \minute, and \tick.
- Start NinjaTrader and wait for the workspace to load (the strategies will load last) in its entirety.
- Connect to your real time data feed.
- Make sure that there is real time data coming in -> look at a Time & Sales window (select the current ES or NQ futures contract) to confirm real time data is flowing.
- Enable your strategies by left clicking anywhere on the Strategies tab, hold down CTRL and press the "A" key (to select all the bots), then right click and click Enable.

Each Morning before 9:00 AM ET:

- Login to VPS AND make sure that there is real time data coming in -> look at a Time & Sales window (select the current ES or NQ futures contract) to confirm real time data is flowing.
- Make sure that all your strategies are still enabled.

Throughout the Trading Day (9:30 AM to 4:00 PM ET):

- Occasionally login to VPS and check on the bots.
- Remember, these are fully automated strategies, you do not have to intervene. However, should you choose to treat them as semi-automated strategies, and manage stops and targets at your own discretion, you will have to disable the bot(s) to take over and manage its position(s).
- VERY IMPORTANT: If at any time throughout the trading day, you disable a bot, be sure to cancel any active orders associated with those bots unless you are managing the position at your discretion.
- IMPORTANT: Check the Positions column on the Strategies tab for any bot positions, then check the Positions tab to confirm those positions are open in your account, and finally, check the Orders tab (Filtered by Only Active Orders) to confirm that there are active stop orders and profit taking orders (if necessary) in place for any open positions in the Positions tab. Any open position should have a stop in place! Cancel any unnecessary working orders if needed.

Q: What causes a bot to become out of sync?

- enabling a bot after the bot has already triggered a trade
- human intervention (manually close a position, etc.) without disabling the bot first
- data or price connection loss for an extended period of time

Each Evening shortly after the US Equities RTH 4:00 PM ET Close MONDAY through THURSDAY

- Login to VPS AND check the Positions tab and make sure that any open positions were in fact closed at 4:00pm ET.
- Check the Orders tab and double check that there are no active working orders in the market. If there are, right click anywhere on the Orders tab and Cancel All Orders.

FRIDAY between 4:00 PM and 5:00 PM ET (after US Equities RTH 4:00 PM ET Close)

- Check the Positions tab and Flatten Everything if necessary (this will close all your positions and cancel any active working orders).
- If no open positions, then 1) on the Strategies tab, disable all bots and then 2) on the Orders tab, if necessary, Cancel All Orders (to cancel any remaining active working orders).
- Look at your results for the week via the Trade Performance window (New -> Trade Performance), etc.
- Close NinjaTrader.
- Remove the cache and all historical data by going into the following folder `\Documents\NinjaTrader 8\db` and deleting ONLY these four subfolders: `\cache`, `\day`, `\minute`, and `\tick`.
- Re-start the VPS and go and enjoy your weekend! 😊

Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) Meeting Announcements and High Impact News Events

Trading just before a Major Economic (High Impact) News announcement can expose you to unforeseen risks and unexpected losses. To ensure that you are always prepared, regularly check an economic calendar and/or a good news source for upcoming High Impact News events (i.e. RED FOLDER news events at <https://www.forexfactory.com/>).

The FOMC Meeting Announcement and other High Impact News events are typically associated with range expansion and volatility. Therefore, we will typically disable the bots 15 to 30 minutes prior to and re-enable the bots 15 to 30 minutes after the FOMC Meeting Announcement and/or a High Impact News event.

By prioritizing awareness of High Impact News, we can manage risks effectively and improve overall performance of the strategies.
